VVZ-OP8-01-T Eight-part monkey trail

The eight-part monkey trail combines a spider rope net, hammock net, two sections with moving HPL climbing panels, a swinging rope, a high rope net with an upper bar, a balance ladder and educational balance steps. The varied sections allow children to alternate between balancing, climbing, swinging and other physical activities while naturally developing balance, coordination, stability, strength and overall agility. The extensive activity route offers different levels of challenge and engages the whole body as children move through the structure. The steel structure with a durable surface finish, strong polyester ropes and stainless-steel fasteners ensures high durability and a long service life in outdoor environments.
